

contact

magazine

green issue

eco-renovation what is green? v2 the future of pre-fab density=destiny a sustainable discussion phoenix film fest eco-furniture sculptor pete diese first friday round-up

Light House

Light House is a modern lighting fixture designed by the architect, Peter Dinklage. The fixture is made of a light-colored material and has a simple, rectangular shape. It is suspended from the ceiling by two thin, black cords. The fixture is shown in a room with a blue wall and a wooden floor.

Headline

Headline is a modern lighting fixture designed by the architect, Peter Dinklage. The fixture is made of a light-colored material and has a simple, rectangular shape. It is suspended from the ceiling by two thin, black cords. The fixture is shown in a room with a blue wall and a wooden floor.

Table

Table is a modern dining table designed by the architect, Peter Dinklage. The table is made of a dark-colored material and has a simple, rectangular shape. It is shown in a room with a white wall and a wooden floor.

The Fold Chair

From a panda's daily means of sustenance to a modernist's routine delight. Influenced by minimalist Asian design, Bannavis Andrew Sribyatta turned a fleeting moment of inspiration into tangible home decor. The environmentally friendly Fold Chair utilizes the world's most prolific plant material, bamboo, to create a fully functioning conversation piece. $1,000; vivavi.com